

Reflection on Assignment 4

On 17th November 2023, we got to visit Huawei and Petronas. It's a fantastic experience all around and a great chance for me to learn new things. Drone inspection and the Petronas Cloud solution are two of the most recent innovations that Petronas has made public. During this sharing event, I learned how crucial it is for technical improvements to enhance human lives by increasing productivity and enabling faster data access. During our visit to the Huawei Innovation Center, they also showed us a number of their cutting-edge products, which further deepened my understanding. Unlike what I had learned in the classroom, I gained a broader perspective of the ICT industry on this tour. For example, the Huawei IdeaHub Board features dual WiFi and reverse control over page flipping, enabling truly flexible iteration. Therefore, this industrial visit was a valuable learning opportunity that increased my understanding of cutting-edge technology, all of which are very helpful to me. I also hope that the faculty will be able to schedule more industrial visits in the future.
